Chris,

I collect old receivers, and would be interested if you were to start doing such rigs as R-388/51-J3/4, Hammarlunds, etc.

One of the things you'd need to think about (especially for military rigs) is the possibility that they may have engraved lettering (like the SP-600 series). Here, paint has to be virtually rubbed into the engravings (I use a paint stick for this) after the whole panel has been given the coat of finish paint. This would add much labor!

Please keep us posted...you have a great idea!

Chris,

I would also be interested as is Walt in panels for boatanchor receivers - specifically the SX-100, HQ-180, etc.
